Addysgu ac asesu yn yr oes ddigidol
Developing employability for the digital age
TodaysMeet.com
Why is this important

C21 workplace
Why is this important

C21 learners
How can technology help?
Basic work readiness
Basic work readiness

Ethical and moral behaviour
Appearance and presentation
Spoken, written and online communication
Language etiquette
Numeracy
Social skills
What are the pros and cons of posting selfies?
Blogs about online language and how it’s used
Basic work readiness

Digital resources to demonstrate and debate behaviour, appearance, social skills

Digital activities to support functional skills and learning inside and outside the classroom

Digital language awareness to support learners with appropriate interactions online
Lifelong learning
Lifelong learning

Self directed planning, assessment and review of learning
Self directed updating of skills
Learning in all contexts, formal and non formal
Seeking feedback from peers, tutors and employers
Recording and reflecting on learning
What would you like to learn?

Browse free online courses
Lifelong learning

Online learning, MOOCs, VLEs and access to resources anytime

Online quizzes and surveys

Web and video conferencing opportunities to communicate and collaborate

Videos, blogs, podcasts, social media and other online platforms to record learning and reflection or invite comments
Lifelong employability
Lifelong employability

Self awareness to evaluate skills capabilities and attributes
Developing intelligence about careers, markets, jobs, employers
Identifying career options and skills required
Developing a strategic plan
Networking and engagement
Having collateral e.g. CV, digital resources, evidence of skills Effective communication and presentation of these Skills Health Check Tools

Find out what kind of work is right for you

Start your Skills Health Check

Simply complete a series of questions and activities and we’ll help point you in the right direction. Your Skills Health Check report will help you decide what kind of job would suit you. It can also show you which skills you might want to brush up on.

Why give your skills a health check?
Lifelong employability

Research using sites like the National Careers Service

Social networking to follow relevant organisations, ask questions and engage

Sites to self promote and engage with others - DIY website, blog, YouTube channel, Twitter, FB page, Pinterest, Instagram

Sharing and collaborating to build up relationships

Open badges
Professional skills and knowledge
Professional skills and knowledge

Collaboration, leadership
Communication, influencing, negotiation
Enterprise, commercial and business awareness
Planning, organisation and project management
Investigation, analysis and problem solving
Languages
Self management
Shop job interview
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JJfw3xt4emY
Professional skills and knowledge

Communication tools like Skype, Google, FB, Twitter, Periscope, blogs, web and video conferencing, instant messaging

Collaborative tools like Padlet, Lino It, TodaysMeet, Google Drive, O365, Dropbox, social media

Organisational tools like Google calendar, Outlook, Evernote, Google Keep, mind maps, Trello, Basecamp, Yammer

Online language courses like Say Something In..., BBC, Alison

Time management tools like shared calendars, Focus Booster
Authentic experience
Experience of working with employers, community or voluntary groups
Application of learning, skills, knowledge and experience to work
Reflecting on authentic experience
Communicating and evidencing learning from authentic experience
Tell us about your work experience when you were young.

It could be a placement from school, voluntary work or your first summer or part time job.

What was it and how did you feel?
Tell us about your work experience when you were young

It could be a placement from school, voluntary work or your first summer or part time job

What was it and how did you feel?
Authentic experience

Researching opportunities online to gain work experience

Using video, podcasting, blogging to reflect on experience

Sharing and collaborating with peers and colleagues using social media and other tools
Personal attributes

Adaptability and flexibility
Confidence, humility and assertiveness
Creativity and vision
Aspirations, motivation and persistency
Responsibility and initiative
Sensitivity to contexts; cultural, business, global, political
Personal attributes

Experience and skills using technology gives you
• Relationship development – online and offline
• Working effectively and efficiently as a team
• Having confidence to try new things and be creative
• Access to information and people in other contexts
• The ability to appear this way in your social media profiles
Wrap up...
Your Jisc account manager
https://www.jisc.ac.uk/contact/your-account-manager

Our consultancy page
https://www.jisc.ac.uk/consultancy
Dr Esther Barrett

esther.barrett@jisc.ac.uk

jisc.ac.uk